

The Benefits of Leasing

You can lease your equipment using a compliant finance agreement.

The structured operating lease enables you to experience all the benefits of financing equipment, whilst complying with the Prudential Code of Borrowing 2004.

By using leasing you can use the freed up cash for other critical purposes.

As schools budgets are cut year on year but the demand for specialist teachers (with increased wage costs) and improved facilities increases, integrating leasing into your purchasing plans means you can achieve a greater balance reducing the inevitable compromise that budget restrictions often enforce.

You can lease almost any kind of equipment.

Catering equipment, IT, security fencing, interactive white boards, music / drama equipment. From single items to an entire project or upgrade programme. All are available through this leasing programme.

You choose the equipment you want.

You make the arrangements as to price and specifications with the supplier you have selected. You retain all manufacturer's warranties and guarantees.

You get a longer term, smaller payments.

Typical lease terms are three to five years enabling you to buy the equipment you need today - immediately enhancing the learning environment of current students – whilst minimising the drain on your current budget.

You enjoy virtually 100% financing.

Practically any other financing demands a substantial down payment, deposit or large end of lease payment or balloon. By using a 'structured operating lease' you can quickly acquire use of the equipment you want without having to budget for any large fees or payments.

You can deal with budget restrictions.

Budget restrictions preventing purchase of equipment maybe overcome with a cleverly tailored lease arrangement.

You can get a hedge against obsolescence.

With today's rapidly moving technology, some equipment can become obsolete relatively quickly. Leasing frequently enables you to acquire the new equipment you need without having to keep costly equipment working years beyond its profitable time.

You can project costs more accurately.

You have known payments over a specified period. There are no depreciation figures to be questioned, no varying interest costs to be estimated. Leasing helps take the guesswork out of budgeting.

You get great flexibility in lease plans.

Lease payments can be arranged to match your cash flow pattern, to match the influx of a new budget or even to match earnings generated by the equipment. Throughout the lease, arrangements can be made for renewal, purchase, or return of equipment. We will structure a lease plan to fit your situation and specific requirements.
